As an associate in our Wills and Estates Group, Sasha brings an approach to estate planning that centers on understanding and addressing the unique needs of each client, working collaboratively with both the client and their trusted advisors to help craft a comprehensive and effective estate plan that meets their particular needs.

Sasha is building a practice with a focus on estate planning. She assists clients with a wide variety of estate planning issues as well as estate administration. Whether clients hope to protect a disabled heir, incorporate succession planning for their business, address the unique concerns arising from second spouses and blended families, minimize family conflicts, or deal with beneficiaries or assets that are situated outside of Canada, Sasha can help craft a tailored estate plan that meets their individual needs.

Prior to joining Foglers, Sasha was a Will and Estate Advisor with a leading Canadian bank and a lawyer in private practice. The combination of her professional expertise and her commitment to provide practical solutions makes Sasha an invaluable resource for both clients and their financial advisors.
