Madison was a summer student at the firm in 2022. She recently graduated from Western Law and has a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Toronto, where she graduated with distinction.

Prior to law school, Madison worked in France for 1 year as an au pair, teaching English to 2 children. While at Western Law, Madison worked as a teaching assistant for an undergraduate Health Law course. She also worked as a research assistant for Robert Solomon, focusing on federal and provincial impaired driving legislation.

In her spare time, Madison enjoys travelling, reading mystery novels, and trying new restaurants and cafes.
