Kimberley recently completed her Juris Doctor at Osgoode Hall Law School.

Kimberley earned an Honours Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Philosophy from the University of Toronto. During law school, she founded and served as President of the First Generation Lawyers Club. She also served as a copy editor for Obiter Dicta, mentored students with disabilities, and completed her first-year moot with distinction.

As an alumna of Queen's International Law Program, she spent a summer in Berlin, Germany, studying international business law with a focus on international trade and investment. In recognition of her leadership and contributions to the student community, she received the Shillingford Award and the Justice Maryka Omatsu Scholarship.

Kimberley is committed to becoming a client-centred lawyer who upholds integrity, professionalism, and strong advocacy.

Outside of the office, she enjoys studying architectural history, jogging, trying new cuisines, and spending time with friends and family.
